

006045 Equipment Self Assessment – Supplier Engagement Event

This is an invitation for suitable providers that can offer a web based system which supports people to self-assess and find solutions to be able to carry out basic and more complex activities of daily living. The system must offer a continuum of advice and information, which supports the requirements of the council's statutory responsibility to provide advice and signposting on care services. As well as providing the council with a database of information on people living in Newcastle who have accessed the system and data around the information they have accessed, which should highlight their needs.

The solution must cover areas of the home or other activities which the person is having difficulty with as attributed from Mokken scaling including: around the home - bathroom, bedroom, personal – dressing, washing, memory, feeling safe and secure at home, hearing, eyesight and getting around outside the home.

The Council envisages that this will allow people through a series of questions to identify solutions to allow them to continue living independently at home. The solutions include exercises, advice, signposting to appropriate providers, referral to the Occupational Therapists team or other social care teams as appropriate for assessment and further support including aids and adaptations.

This event is free of charge. No expenses will be paid by the Council for your attendance.

Event Date: 27th February 2018

Location:
Model Room 2
Newcastle City Council
Civic Centre
Newcastle Upon Tyne
NE1 8QH

1 hour sessions will be scheduled, in which we intend to discuss the capabilities and functionality of your product as well as offer an insight in to the Council's requirements. Sessions will take place from 09:00 am.

How to Register: Please contact Aaron Rush, Commissioning and Procurement Officer at Newcastle City Council via email at aaron.rush@newcastle.gov.uk.

These sessions will be on a first come first serve basis. You will be given a timeslot to attend the event when your registration has been received.

This PIN does not formally signify the beginning of a procurement process and does not constitute commitment to undertake a procurement exercise.